The Executive Guide to S/4HANA Readiness

Most S/4HANA programmes do not fail because of technology. They fail because governance was designed for a simpler era of ERP. This whitepaper distils the readiness framework Infocure applies with CFOs and CIOs before a single sprint begins: decision gates, a named business-case owner, and cutover rehearsals on production-like data.

Inside this document

- What boards should ask before committing to a migration programme.
- Fit-to-standard discipline: where to adopt, where to extend.
- Data readiness: the rehearsal cadence that de-risks cutover.
- Governance gates that replace optimism with evidence.
